

S - Hello and welcome back to Real Horrorshow, I'm your host Samantha and I'm joined by what sounds like a sleepy Stormy Skies.

J - Hello, and you sound equally sleepy.

S - It's Tuesday...

J - Yeah it is, and there's been these cold fronts happening and making me just a little cooler than normal and that really just puts me in a bad mood; so I just am very unhappy right now because the temperature is not 75°! So just not a very happy day, first world problems, I wish it was warmer outside.

S - I'm sleepy because I just made dinner, which was okay...

J - Oh man that always makes everything kind of worse.

S - Yeah, I've been getting our little patio area together because in our new apartment we have a patio that we're going to use.

J - That's awesome, I love patio areas!

S - ...and we're trying, we need to pick up the patio furniture from my old boss's house because someone's moving in there this week, so that's a thing, but we hung up some nice Vibe lights, you know, like not twinkle lights but the bulb lights.

J - Oh yeah absolutely.

S - Because the built-in lighting option is this disgusting white fluorescent humming light

J - That's not very fun and relaxing for the patio at all.

S - Yeah that's not a Vibe, so we need to create a vibe.

J - The vibes from fluorescence are never Good Vibes!

S - The Vibes from fluorescence are "oh my God those are so many mosquitoes" get them away!

J - Yeah it's funny that you replaced, you're going to replace fluorescent, because I got this little desk lamp thing for my in-laws this weekend and the light bulb in it was like LED light, like bright white light, like the brightest light in the room so I replaced it with a soft glow LED bulb cuz it was not a Vibe on the desk.

S - Yeah I kind of also want to change out all the lights in our living room and kitchen because they're very yellow, and if you follow me on my personal Instagram, you'll see that I go for kind of a vintage retro-y look with my pictures and that's mainly because of how yellow the light is. A lot of them, I don't even have a filter on, and they just look that way...

J - Yeah yeah, for your kitchen and living room area it's always better to have that brighter White. Oh yeah especially if you're in the kitchen like I understand, I have yellow light in my kitchen and if I try to take pictures of food and it's night time it'll just look like... yeah it'll look nasty and s*** and like it actually doesn't look this bad it's just the yellow lamp, so I feel ya.

S - But that's a project for another day, now it's time to focus on the patio before it gets too hot and we don't want to chill outside.

J - Yeah absolutely. I'm sorry for the delay. I was just taking the extra time to finish the last 17 minutes of Episode 22 of season 2 of Vampire Diaries.

S - Nice nice, because we took some time off so we could finish it, so I'm glad that we took those two weeks to wait until the last minute to finish season 2 (laughs)

J - Yeah sorry! (laughing) I literally took all of yesterday and like all of today to watch 6 episodes.

S - It's fine, I accidentally sunk back into a "my 600 pound life" hole which is... the newer Seasons just aren't as good as the older seasons, and it's too scripted and from what I've heard they find contestants off of Instagram, so the contestants who are on Instagram probably aren't actually that interested in losing their 600-lb. So they just don't make an effort and it's just a little depressing and there were some good episodes, inspiring episodes...

J - Yeah but not quite like the original seasons...

S - Yeah, but before we get into Vampire Diaries, which we just finished, so I'm sure we have plenty of fresh thoughts to share during this minisode, let's pick the movie we're reviewing for hopefully next week!

J - Yeah excellent hopefully fingers crossed, but I think it'll be good!

S - So the totally random, not preselected movie we're watching this week is "into the grizzly maze"

J - (sarcastically) Oh that's so outta left field, where did that come from!

S - I don't know it was on Netflix, and it's been awhile if we've ever done a nature or movie so: this is an action thriller horror movie starring: James Marsden, Billy Bob Thornton, and Piper Perabo. Estranged brothers Beckett and Rowan reunite in the Alaskan wild to confront a Savage grizzly bear wreaking havoc on their Hometown. This movie is suspenseful.

J - It only says suspenseful? What about the other two?

S - I know... it's just suspenseful!

J - God damn it!

S - I don't know if it's going to be chilling or violent, or I mean I can probably wager a guess that the bear is probably going to die in the end.

J - Yeah rest in peace bear but how are we going to know if it's scary or Moody, which one?

S - I don't know! How will I know if it's a teen scream?

J - Well at least we know it's suspenseful but the real horrorshow is not knowing the other two adjectives so I'll add that to my notes.

S - And I don't... have we ever had like this "animals gone crazy" horror movie?

J - No dude we've had like outdoorsy stuff but they all centered around like a monster not like a real life animal, never an animal that's like, appears in nature.

S - Oh you know what I'm realizing it's like our anniversary month and we're not doing a Friday the Thirteenth. That'll be our next movie review.

J - Next movie review, for sure you guys, f13.

S - Let's see what Friday the 13th right now is on Netflix, it's only Jason X...

J - sh**

S - The Bride of Chucky's on f***** Netflix right now.

J - We could do that that's kind of reminiscent of our olden days.

S - Maybe a hint, we'll pray super hard and see if Jesus bestows Bride of Chucky on to us for our next review.

J - Yes please Jesus! But yeah that'll be a really cool thing because our theme song used to be something along the lines of like the Chucky theme song?

S - Our theme song used to be "La La" which is the Child's Play theme song, which is probably a copyright violation but who's paying attention to us...

J - No way! But it's still it's kind of like going back to Our Roots just as Friday the 13th goes back to our roots too.

S - All right, so with that being decided let's get into the Vampire Diaries the last half of season 2 and lots of lots of twists and turns and a lot of drama as we: meet The Originals, we meet Klaus who is a vampire-werewolf hybrid...

J - Yes and we meet his brother too but his brother is just a Vampire.

S - So were they Brothers before they became vampires or...

J - I believe... I believe so...yeah, I'm pretty sure that yeah they're brothers.

S - You're supposed to be the academic on this show!

J - Yeah, I mean he does discuss how their brothers and then you know that he came from a big family and that he killed everybody in the family one-by-one, and said that he is out for revenge and because he's so mad that he doesn't have any of his family members left, so I'm guessing they're from like the same Human family, but I don't know where the vampire turning came into play because he never got to explain it because Klaus killed him, because of course he did...but now Klaus is all by himself so now he's like a "Lone Wolf".

S - That must have been really hard for you because you told me that you thought Elijah was cute.

J - (sad) I told you that when I watched episode 21 and then I watched episode 22 and Klaus killed him and I was like "aw man!" and then I was like you know what it was kind of like, I kind of saw that one coming, but I was like "aw man he was a cute original," and now it's just Klaus who is the only original that we know of right now.

S - They're going to have to bring in more originals because they have that spin-off show and it's not "the original" it's "the originals" implying that there are more than one.

J - Yeah there are so many, and then more will probably be introduced in that spinoff which we're going to have to watch after this is through. There's just so freaking much that happens in this season I felt like I watched four seasons of a show but we're just on season 3, and it's just I can't believe how much happens, it's crazy!

S - Like we got Katherine, then the originals, what... Katherine, werewolves, then the originals, then vampire-werewolf hybrid, and now the implication of either Resurrection or ghosts in those last two minutes of the final episode of season 2, where Vicki and Anna both show up to torment Jeremy probably.

J - Yeah Jeremy has touched the other side, so now I feel like he has a partial like, foot in the other plane, so to speak.

S - So, you think you'll be able to see ghosts now?

J - Yes I think so, because they can't just leave how he's like the only one left alive in Elena's family who is like not special in some way supernaturally, so now he is special and Supernatural, maybe it's a gift maybe he'll think it's a curse. But yeah this is... so much happens and then there's also so many deaths of important people that it begs so many questions for me, but like there's so much and loss that like these people... these characters are like traumatically shattered, and everybody in town is a vampire and there's no humans left!

S - Pretty much, but getting away from Death how do you feel about Jeremy and Bonnie becoming a thing?

J - I think that's fine, you know I'm okay with that, because Elena said it was okay and as long as Bonnie likes him that's cool too, so that I don't see there being too big of an issue. With that being said, like I don't know how young he is... like a couple years?

S - I think he has to be at least a year younger than Elena.

J - Well that's okay if it's just a year younger...

S - I mean in real life he's probably like 25.

J - Yes, all these men who are like 25 to 30 but they're like "we're 17" (laughs maniacally)

S - Like, Damon is not going to look 17 for much longer we have 2 seasons left of him looking 17.

J - Yeah he already looks like a grown ass man, and they're like, "shave your face" and he still looks like a grown ass man so everybody just looks so grown. Elena can pass for a very young woman because of how she looks in the show.

J - Everybody dies...

S - Yeah basically Elena's whole family is dead now except for Jeremy, who almost died. I thought they were... I really thought they were going to kill him too, when they shot him but then they brought him back. I was like, just (expletive) do it" but then now he's alive.

S - And Jenna died.

J - Yeah, Jenna died. And so does John who was living on borrowed time as it was and nobody really liked him anyway.

S - I just remembered we finally met Elena's birth mother, Isobel, this season.

J - Yeah and she sacrificed herself because she, like, was so mad at herself for being a douchebag.

S - Is that why she... I thought she was compelled to kill herself once she finished doing what she needed to do?

J - I don't know? I thought she killed herself cuz... yeah she's gone...

S - I had a hard time taking that character seriously because she's played by, um, Mia something, she was in "The L Word" and she was the worst character on "The L Word."

J - Oh really? I've never seen her before!

S - It's just a hard to take her seriously in any role because she's just "Jenny" that super obnoxious character from "The L Word" who becomes a lesbian at the end of season... well not becomes a lesbian, figures out she's a lesbian at the end of season 1, and suddenly knows everything about lesbian culture plus does some really transphobic things in season 2 and 3.

J - Yeah, she wasn't the greatest character in this show either, I mean she was just like obsessed with vampires and she wanted to become one and then she... I don't know like she was just annoying and so yeah like she's dead which is fine. Nobody cares... but it begs the question, now that everybody is dead, who is going to be like Elena and Jeremy's legal guardian now, is it going to be Alaric?

S - I don't know, do they really even need a legal guardian? Elena's got to be close to eighteen by now!

J - Yeah she's probably super close to eighteen because she mentioned that she was 17 whenever they're walking up the hill of the big hike they did up the, like, waterfall thing. I don't know how the system works. Does she need to be 18 to look after Jeremy or does she have to like become his legal guardian, I don't know what happens there because literally like they're living in a house by themselves.

S - Yeah, I believe when she's 18 she's a legal adult across the United States. In Virginia the age I believe is 18 regardless but she would have to probably petition the courts to become Jeremy's legal guardian because he's like 16 or 17 and they're still in school so that would be problematic maybe they'll create a new family member that they never brought up before.

J - Maybe they'll do that, because I didn't watch the first episode of season 3 yet.

S - I haven't either.

J - Yeah but maybe it'll be Alaric because he's kind of like around a lot or maybe they'll just bring in another family member. You're right, who knows who else is out there because they just kind of do that and it works for this type of a show.

S - I like Alaric, but I just don't understand how a man probably born in at least the early 1980s would be named Alaric...

J - Yeah, even when we're first being introduced to him, they really made us think he was a new vampire, but he's just a man.

S - And that he goes by Alaric, and he's not embarrassed about that name so he doesn't go by Al or Rick.

J - Rick! Yeah, Al... and like sometimes they call him Alaric, and he could be an original, you know what I mean, but no, he's just a man.

S - Just a man, he was Elle Woods' ex boyfriend in Legally Blond.

J - Really?

S - Yeah!

J - I've never seen any of these people in anything before this other than this show, except for Jenna because she was in The Banana Splits movie that we watched, she was the mom.

S -Oh yeah she was!

J - Rest in peace Jenna! That was kind of s*** I liked her...

S - This show likes to turn characters into vampires and just immediately kill them off.

J - Yup just immediately (expletive) kill them and I was like holy s*** and then people just die f***** left and right, and I still stand by what I said from season 1, this is a f***** bloodbath! People just die die die, and that is it and they keep em coming!

S - I don't get why this town isn't like some major red flag cuz I'm just I'm thinking "in real life if Mystic Falls existed: one I don't think they, in the flashbacks I don't think they would be in full Antebellum Garb, they might be but I associate that with like Deeper South like Alabama and so where we are they are about maybe 45 minutes away from Lynchburg based on a map they showed in one episode which means they're about two hours from where I am, this is the appalachian region, they didn't have the fancy antebellum dresses and shit, Catherine probably would but everybody else, not so much unless they're working for the coal company, in which case they are the enemy." I was going to say before I got to my tangent, I was going to say like the surrounding towns would know that this town pretty much loses its population every month or so, news travels fast here.

J - Yeah that's what I was going to mention too is that the population is dwindling there aren't enough people left in town because it's a small town and everybody knows each other and also there's like apparently there's only one police officer in like the entire town. I just don't know how they can sustain more people to be killed, there so many more seasons that we have to watch. I don't know where we're going to get all these people?

S - I have no idea, eventually they're going to have to go to college right?

J - I guess they're going to have to go to college, they'll probably go to college in Virginia maybe but we do know that Stephen is leaving town so he'll go somewhere else.

S - Oh yeah Stephen is like a bad boy now, he basically ditched Elena and is like "I'm a baddie now. I'm a naughty boy."

J - Yeah he was like "as long as Damon can take care of her for right now then it's all good" and then we just kind of got like the "okay" that it's okay to have two vampire boyfriends who are brothers at the same time I guess...I guess Damon is going to be Elena's new boyfriend?

S - Which makes sense because in real life, at this time, real Elena was dating real Damon...

J - Oo my God where they really?

S - Yeah

J - Oh my god! Do you think that made things a little awkward when she had to pretend to be Stephen's on screen girlfriend?

S - Probably. I don't want to get into spoilers because I have been reading on things but...

J - Oh wow.

S - Things may have gotten really awkward towards the end of the series because in real life they did break up.

J - Her and Damon? Elena and Damon?

S - Yeah he married another iconic vampire: Nikki Reed.

J - Oh really? Are they still married?

S - I think so.

J - I'm going to look this up and hang on one second, who's this girl?

S - She's Rosalie!

J - Oh S*** yeah Rosalie! Like this picture of her is just awful it's just showing the worst picture of all time of her and she's like really short hair and it's dark brown and if you want me to see Rosalie, she has like the white blond hair but yeah wow, Nikki Reed... she is a vampire queen as well. Yeah are they still together? Is his name Paul McDonald?

S - No, he is Ian Somerhalder.

J - Oh, they were there currently married because she divorced whoever Paul McDonald is, he must be a big loser and she married Ian instead.

S - Yes and they had a child named Badhi Soleil...

J - Soleil.

S - Goddamn that's a name.

J - It's French, Soleil means "sun."

S - That's so ironic that they would name their child "sun" when they're real Vampires!

J - Yeah wow they're like allergic to the sun! So who is Elena with right now?

S - I don't know.

J - This is a discussion for off-mic!

S - Yeah but I think that wraps up everything I had to say about the end of season 2 of Vampire Diaries! We're probably going to start getting ghosts in this next season, I hope we find out who turned or who created The Originals, how that happened, I hope eventually we get Dracula in the series...

J - Do you think that we will get Dracula as an original?

S - Probably not.

J - Well [Stephen] talked about Bran Stoker though Sam, remember?

S - Because, yeah, so does that mean Dracula is a true story in this world?

J - Does that mean he's real in this world? Yeah..

S - I don't know I just think it would be cool is all...

J - That is kind of a cool thing because he does mention it and I feel like in the show when they mention stuff it just like comes through, um so, excellent, well Sam and I really enjoying ourselves and after we get off mic I'm going to go back downstairs and start season 3 because I don't want to allow myself to get behind again.

S - Yeah you've got to watch TV, it's very important!

J - I know I know, I finally am making time for myself with it because sometimes I'll just go downstairs and read instead and then it will be like 9 and I'll be like "no time for tv!"

S - See I just, I can multitask and read and have something on in the background at the same time.

J - What? that's crazy, how do you do that?

S - It's usually something like Vampire Diaries or a dumb Lifetime movie that can just be background noise and you don't need to really pay too much attention to it. That's why I don't watch as many International films as I would like, because I need to multitask, I need to do something, so I can't read the subtitles and then I'm super lost...

J -Right! Awesome, but that's all I got to say about that ...

S - Yeah, I guess I will talk to you next week.

J - Yes! so listeners if you want to tune in next week we're going to be discussing... is it out of the grizzly maze?

S - I think it's just "the grizzly maze."

J - "The Grizzly Maze" excellent! So we're going to be watching that on Netflix, so watch it too, so you can follow along with our conversation and not have the movie ruined for you! We chose Netflix so you can join in, because we just assume most people have Netflix.

S - Yeah. But we will see you all next week!

J - Alright guys see you later!

S - Bye bye!

J - Bye!
